

Printable Quiz

1. Please enter your student ID Number:
2. What are three keywords, synonyms, or related terms you would use to search a library database to find an article on the following topics:

- a. How does illegal immigration affect the U.S. economy?
- b. Explain the causes and effects of homelessness in New York City.

3. Name two Boolean Operators that will help you narrow or broaden your search and help you retrieve the information you seek.

4. (a) Is the following citation from a book or journal?
(b) Is the resource print or web-based?

Balz, Daniel J., and Haynes Johnson . The Battle for America, 2008 : The Story of an Extraordinary Election. New York: Viking, 2009. Print.

5. (a) Is the following citation from a book or journal?
(b) Is the resource print or web-based?

Falasca, Katia, et al. "Quality of Life, Depression, and Cytokine Patterns in Patients with Chronic Hepatitis C Treated with Antiviral Therapy." Clinical & Investigative Medicine 32.3 (2009): 212-8. Academic Search Premier. Web. 1 Mar. 2010.

6. Which of the following topics is narrow enough to make a good start for a research paper?

- a. How does the Internet affect the world?
- b. How do social networking sites like MySpace affect American teenagers?
- c. What is the impact of the World Wide Web?

7. You have been asked to write a research paper using scholarly articles. Where should you go to find articles for this paper?

- a. The LRC databases

- b. Wikipedia
 - c. Yahoo's search engine
8. Name one way you can limit your search in the Academic Search Premier database.
9. You have been asked to write a research paper about recent threats posed to the Great Lakes by invasive species. You find a website called “Aquatic Creatures of North America,” created by Jan Singleton, a graduate student in creative writing. The site was last updated in 2001. You would probably not cite this resource for your paper because . . .
- a. It was not created by an expert
 - b. It is not current enough
 - c. Both “a” and “b”
10. Name one method suggested by the tutorial for keeping track of resources for a paper.